Everything we offer is in-house so we have total control over the quality and synchronicity of every component of the decor.

Therefore, if you already went through this process, please email us the proposals you already have on hand and we use that as a springboard to not only understand your vision but also to put together a House Of BASH proposal.

We limit the number of events we book each week to assure we have suitable time and skilled staff members to perfectly produce the wedding day of your dreams.
